The School

Since its founding some 40 years ago, National Chengchi University (NCCU) has earned a reputation as an institution of higher education celebrated for its studies in the humanities, social sciences, and management/administration sciences. Although it has changed its name and constitution twice in its history, the goals and ideals of the university have always remained steadfast: the search for truth, the commitment to academic research, the cultivation of future generations of leaders, and and respond to changes shaping society and the ability to recognize academia.

Over the decades, NCCU has developed and refined itself into nine colleges including Commerce, Liberal Arts, Science, Social Sciences, Law, Foreign Languages, Communication, International Affairs, and Education, ten independent graduate institutes, and thirty-three departments. The University annually contracts more than 600 full-time professors, 70 researchers, and over 200 part-time lecturers, scholars and experts to conduct instruction and research in our institution.

The City

Taiwan lies on the western edge of the Pacific "rim of fire," and continuous tectonic movements have created majestic peaks, rolling hills and plains, basins, coastlines, and other wonders. Taiwan sees climates of many types: tropical, sub-tropical, and temperate, providing clear differentiation between the different seasons.

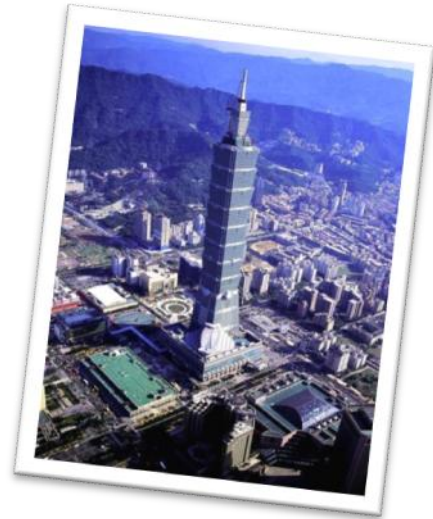

The government has established six national parks and twelve national scenic areas to preserve Taiwan's natural ecological environment and cultural sites. Take in the splendor and sheer heights of the cliffs at Taroko Gorge; take a ride on the Alishan train - one of only railways in the world - and experience the breathtaking sunset and sea of clouds; hike up to the summit of Northeast Asia's highest peak, Jade Mountain.

The cultural aspects are also not to be missed. The blending of Hakka, Taiwanese, and ethnic Chinese cultures has produced a rich plethora of cultural and social color. Whether it is religion, architecture, language, living habits, or food, it's just one big exciting melting pot! Food is the best representative of this cultural mixing and matching. Aside from cuisines from different parts of the mainland such as Zhejiang, Hunan, Guangdong, Yunnan, Shanghai, Beijing, Sichuan, and others, there is also local Taiwanese cuisine as well as local delicacies from various areas of the island.
